"The Tools to Finish the Job"

Every day, from the Peterborough Works of Canadian General Electric Company, come hundreds of synchronous, induction and direct-current motors. These workhorses of modern industry go into immediate action to drive the machines that make guns, tanks, shells, ships, planes, everything in whole or part that adds up to victory.

Almost a sixth of a mile in length is the huge machine shop at Peterborough Works. As one walks its long avenue one sees precision machines, geared up to war-time effort, building motors of every description, for every purpose; generators for power companies; equipment for steel mills; drives for mine hoists . . . all means for making "the tools to finish the job."

For nearly half a century Canadian General Electric engineers and craftsmen have been finding ways to make electricity more useful. Today, they are applying electricity to the task of defending the benefits that it has helped to create.

G-E research saves the Canadian public hundreds of thousands of dollars annually.

Homecoming Programme in Brock Building

It's roundup time in Vancouver for graduates of the University of B. C.

On Friday, October 24 at 7 p.m., from all parts of Vancouver will come graduates, representing the earliest graduating classes and the most recent for the Alumni Association annual meeting and dinner in the Brock Memorial Building, above.

The function will launch the annual Homecoming program, and special guests of honor will be Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. W. C. Woodward.

Business and speeches will be abbreviated, motion pictures will be shown in the Brock theatre and later in the evening there will be a dance.

Guests of honor will be Chancellor and Mrs. R. E. McKechnie, President and Mrs. L. S. Klinck, Mrs. F. F. Wesbrook, Dean Dorothy Mawdsley, Dean and Mrs. Daniel Buchanan, Dean and Mrs. F. M. Clement, Dean and Mrs. J. N. Finlayson, and Ted McBride, president of the Alma Mater Society.

Lt.-Gov. Woodward

The party will be informal and tickets, 85c per person, will be on sale at the door.

Undergraduates as well as grads will attend the dance and Dal Richards will provide a musical background.

Athletes, undergraduate and alumni will meet on Saturday at a Big Block luncheon in the Brock, before the big football game in the stadium when Varsity plays the Vancouver Grizzlies.

After the game, a special turkey dinner will be served in both Brock and the Caf. In the evening, traditional Theatre Night will be held. Players Club and Musical Society will contribute to the program and there will be songs and skits by various campus organizations as well as grads.

There will be roll call for all years from the earliest. Afterwards an informal dance will be held in Brock Hall with music by Sid Poulton's Varsity Band.

U.B.C. GRADS IN NAZI PRISON CAMPS

ISABEL GUERNSEY

A well-known woman graduate, Mrs. Tarrant Guernsey, the former Isabel Russell is a prisoner of war in Germany. Mrs. Guernsey, who worked in the geology department of U.B.C. before she married a geologist from Rhodesia was a victim of Nazi sea havoc.

She was aboard the now historic ZamZam when it was sunk by a German raider in May. Mrs. Guernsey, with the rest of the passengers was taken to a women's concentration camp at Liebenau, in south Germany. In September she was brought to Berlin with other British women prisoners.

At the German capitol she is technically free and is living in a hotel on 150 marks or $60 a month provided by the Canadian Government.

Mrs. Guernsey wrote a graphic story for the last edition of the Chronicle describing her life in South Africa. She was on her way home there when the ZamZam was torpedoed.

RALPH HENDERSON

One of U.B.C.'s most popular graduates, Ralph Henderson, known as "Hunk" who graduated in '36 recently made newspaper headlines.

Hunk joined the Royal Canadian Air Force in June, 1940. In April of this year he went overseas as a pilot and from then until August was one of the flyers whose bombs harassed Germany and occupied Europe by night.

In August he was shot down over Germany and his friends spent anxious days until he was reported safe, but a prisoner of war.

"I am fine and healthy, uninjured (luckily) and being treated quite well," he has since written to his family.

"We are under the jurisdiction of the German Air Force and in a chival-rous sort of way we are being treated well. We get enough to eat alright. Our own cooks do the cooking.

"I am with two Canadian officers that I knew in Canada, we will remain together. We can receive as many letters as are sent to us so write often."

KANE NAZI PRISONER

Lieut. George Kane, another U.B.C. graduate is in a German concentration camp.

George was reported missing after the Dunkirk evacuation but he has since been revealed to be a prisoner of war. He was studying at the University of London when war was declared and joined an English unit.

Hugh Keenleyside, Arts '20, like Robertson, holds the rank of Councillor in the Department. His most important duties are those of Secretary of the Canadian Section of the Permanent Joint Board of Defence.

OFFICERS TRAINING CORPS BUILDING

Looking Backward on U.B.C. in World War 1

By WILLIAM C. WILSON, Arts '16

I have just come in from a Saturday afternoon drive through the University grounds, where I have been watching the hundreds of young undergraduates taking their military training. The years roll back and I sit musing of the early days of the last war, when the O.T.C. was born.

No funds, no uniforms, no parade-grounds, except a cold, draughty, old warehouse on Hamilton street, no orderly room (do I hear some "old sweat" say "Thank the Lord!"), No rifles, no armoury, no instructors except overworked officers from the permanent forces who co-operated by rendering their services after doing their daily duties in the regular Army. However, "the splendid spirit of the cadets and the untiring efforts of the officers" welded the O.T.C. into an organization that had "cause to be proud of its war record, and had a tradition of hard work and self-sacrifice."

I know that that same fine spirit is being evidenced on our campus today. Many of the old brigade have sons who are receiving their training under the vastly improved conditions that exist today, and to us there is a thrill in realizing that from the small beginning there has developed such an efficient organization.

WAR HEROES

In looking over the "Record of Service," U.B.C. 1914-18, we find the names of 697 members of the University or of the McGill Colleges of British Columbia, and of these 78 laid down their lives.

If we could only turn back the years and stage this year's Homecoming rugby game between the present stalwarts and those of twenty-five years ago! Of course, it would be English rugby, as the Canadian game had then not even been considered on these far-western shores.

Can you see them now? Steve Plummer, Lyall Fraser, John Anderson, Gord Scott, Al Bickell, Art Lord, Hamish Cameron, Pete Celle, Bill Dawe, Merrill DesBrisay, George Dixon, "Dutch" Eekardt, "Skipper" Helme, Jack Hoult, Blair Jardine, Harry Letson, Murray Meekison, and a host of others.

Although the "Record of Service" show that U.B.C. men were to be found in all branches of the service, most of the enlistments were in the P.B.I. The Royal Flying Corps was in its infancy, and it was only in the latter years of the war that an opportunity was offered to young Canadians to receive the necessary training in Canada.

PRINCESS PATS

The first mass enlistment from our institution comprised the group who in the spring of 1915 left as re-inforcements for the famous "Princess Pats" (P.P.C.L.I.). There were about 30 in all, and their leaving was the "raison d'être" for many rousing social functions held on the top floor of the "cow barn," which at that time was the main building of the University (McGill College), situated at the corner of Tenth and Laurel. Many of them did not return, but of those who did even the younger graduates may have heard of "Eb" Crute of soccer fame, Gordon "Irish" Craig (Mayor Telford's secretary), Lyall Fraser and Ralph MacPherson, past presidents of the Vancouver and New Westminster Boards of Trade.

Other group enlistments were to the Queen's University Battery later in 1915, and the Western Universities Battalion in 1916.

Graduates of war years who are again rendering service with the military services at the U.B.C. are "Johnny" MacLeod, "Dutch" Eekardt, Art Lord and Gordon Scott.

The spiritual welfare of the people of the province is being looked after by many gentlemen who were active in militia work on the campus and in active service during the last war. Some of those coming to mind are Sam Galbraith, Joe Smeeton, Frank Buck (not the one you see in the movies), Bryce Wallace, "Walky" Walkinshaw, Bill Willan, Theo de Pencier,—(the two latter are again on active service as padres).

LETSON TO WASHINGTON

Harry Letson is another original who has been active in militia work since his cadet days at King Edward High School and is now Canadian Military Attache at Washington, D.C. Other high ranking officers again in service are Colonels Sherwood Lett and Noel Lambert.

Brig. Letson was one of the earliest graduates of the university and later lectured there as associate professor of mechanical engineering. During World War I he joined as a subaltern in the 196th Battalion Western University Corps and distinguished himself as an officer. He was awarded the Military Cross.

Since that time he has received his Ph. D. at U. of London, been officer commanding, U.B.C. O.T.C., a member of the Canadian Bisley team and before his new appointment, O.C. Vancouver defense area.

U.B.C. IN 1941 CARRIES ON

The gala atmosphere of dances and football games once again will greet alumni who come back to the U.B.C. campus on Homecoming week-end, but to everyone who knew this little world before the shadow of war darkened the green-clad campus the great change which has taken place here will be obvious. U.B.C. has entered upon its third war-session.

Undergraduates have not shirked from the added burden which war has placed on their shoulders. Indeed, they have welcomed the opportunity which is theirs to do everything possible for our country's victory. Men and women alike have assumed assigned and voluntary tasks with growing intensity from year to year.

WAR WORK

During the first war term in 1939 enlistment in the U.B.C. Contingent of the C.O.T.C. more than tripled. Training was purely voluntary then. Canada did not fully realize the importance of the struggle she had entered.

Last year, however, universities across Canada fell into step with the government's increased war-effort and compulsory military training for all male students came into force. Over 1,500 men at U.B.C. paraded weekly in either the C.O.T.C. or basic battalions and climaxed their year's training by attending a two-week army camp at Nanaimo in May. Co-eds also did their part by organizing into sewing and knitting circles under the Women's Undergraduate Society's direction and joining first-aid classes.

Compulsory training for men is in

Campus Letter

By

full swing again this fall. Lois Nicholson, W.U.S. President, has enlarged upon last year's war-work program for co-eds and daily sessions are held in the Red Cross knitting rooms in Brock Hall. Every student is now doing his or her bit towards the university war-effort.

The newest building on the campus, still under construction, stands as mute evidence of the change which has taken place in three short years. Built by funds collected from the pay of C.O.T.C. cadets since 1928, the Armouries will be officially opened next month.

SPORTS CUT

The increased amount of time which undergraduates have to give to military and Red Cross work (men get six hours compulsory training per week) has necessitated the drastic cutting of other extra-curricular activities. Sports have been especially affected by the war-effort.

Inter-collegiate sport has been abandoned by U.B.C. as at most other Canadian colleges. Even teams entered in city leagues have had to discontinue. Rugby and football have been the two sports most seriously hit, although a four-game Canadian football schedule for this fall was approved by the Council on Physical Education and Athletics last week.

Basketball is now the only major sport which has kept U.B.C. in the athletic spot-light. Last spring the Thunderbirds ended the most successful season in history by winning the Canadian Senior A championship from Toronto, and prospects for another good year look bright as the hoopers start practising this week.

WARTIME PARTIES

Social events, too, have been restricted because of the war. Many formal functions which in past years were held downtown have been frowned upon as not befitting a university at this time, but to make up for them students have turned to informal parties in the undergraduates' own building, Brock Hall.

The Brock was officially opened in February, 1940, and named as a memorial to Dean Reginald Brock and his wife who were killed in an aeroplane crash on September 27, 1935. Since it opened, Brock Hall has become the centre of student extra-curricular activity and is now the scene of women's war work as well as the social rendezvous.

Despite all the changes and restrictions, however, the enrollment at U.B.C. continues to increase, and this year is greater than ever before. The university is doing more than just carrying on—it is going ahead.

Players Club to do "Man Who Came To Dinner"

Players' Club Alumni are carrying on in spite of war. Last spring, under the direction of Garfield King, Elmer Rice's unusual "Adding Machine" was produced in the University Theatre May 13 and 14.

It was hailed by dramatic critics as one of the most polished amateur performances to be produced in the city, with, beyond doubt the most original and spectacular stage settings.

Appearing in the production were Lorraine Johnston, Lacey Fisher, Mary Moxon, E. R. Chamberlain, Esme Caydzien, C. E. Taylor, J. W. B. Shore, Rodney Poisson, William Rose, Dave Macdonald, Cyrol Chave, Margaret Ecker, Joan Wilson, Josephine Kennedy, Elizabeth Norrie, Estelle Chave, Jean Salter, Douglas Dawson, R. C. Harris.

This fall the Alumni Players will bring "The Man Who Came to Dinner" to Vancouver for the first time. The play is being cast and production dates will be announced later.

Greek Letter Societies Support Red Cross

$2000 FOR RED CROSS

Fraternities and sororities on the campus staged a mammoth Red Cross dance last year that netted the University's Red Cross campaign approximately $2,000. Sale of dance raffle tickets formed a large portion of the net proceeds.

The following night, a "mixer" was held in Brock Hall, admission: one war saving stamp. Proceeds, $125, was sent to the War Savings Headquarters in Ottawa.

EDITORIAL

There's some obscure tradition that the editor of a publication such as the Chronicle should garnish his or her concoction with an editorial.

It would seem however, in this case that that is unnecessary. The above head has merely been put in to fool you, in case you are orthodox enough to want cream with your coffee.

The editorial "we" (who includes divers individuals who helped cook up this pamphlet at forty-five minutes passed the eleventh hour) feel that the Chronicle should be self-expressive.

On Page 1 you will find the Homecoming program, proof that in spite of hell-let-loose the world over, university graduates have cool enough heads and stable enough emotional balance to "Carry On," to borrow a term from the propagandists. Letters from the branches and the short personal items are eloquent witnesses that graduates of the University of B.C. are shouldering their way into the world's limelight.

Should any one ask: "What are university men doing for Canada's war effort?" the answer is in newspaper headlines every day. The pages of the Chronicle devoted to men on active service are proof that U.B.C.'s sons aren't willing to smugly leave the protection of their homes and their homeland to someone else.

On Active Service

By hundreds they've put on uniforms themselves, some as privates, R.C.A.F. ground crew or craftsmen. The luckier ones have commissions. Most of those whose names you read there gave up brilliant futures, careers they liked because they felt they were needed. The university trained man or woman is intelligent enough to know that no matter what their devotion to their civilian jobs or their homes, each one must play his part in defending these institutions, whether in uniform or civilian war service.

When the women's active services were formed, graduates of the University of B.C. were among its first recruits.

There are gaps on these pages, men and women we should have mentioned but didn't. The gaps are eloquent too. They express the complete lack of interest many graduates show in their university and the other men and women they worked and played with on the campus. It's too much bother to them to even write a postcard to the Chronicle telling what they or their friends are doing.

But, thanks to the Alumni executive and an industrious band of workers, the Chronicle has come off the presses. Thanks go to Janet Walker, to Phyllis Nemetz, to Norman Hacking (all extremely busy people) for being willing to give up precious bits of time in the making of this graduate record.

After the annual meeting, there will be a new Chronicle editor, thank goodness. Please give him or her your support and co-operation if you want to see another issue of this magazine that is our only link with a carefree past.

Tuum Est,
MARGARET ECKER.

Letter to the Editor

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—"Heartiest congratulations on your last issue of the Graduate Chronicle. It is far superior to anything the Alumni Association has previously produced, and I earnestly hope that you will be successful in your plan to carry it on as a quarterly. Surely the U.B.C. alumni are now numerous enough and loyal enough to support an alumni publication that will compare with the handsome periodicals of other universities.

"As for myself, I am teaching English in the University of Southern California and do some writing whenever I can shake off the lassitude natural to a sub-tropical climate. The record of my nefarious doings is included in the current issue of 'Who's Who in America.' I wonder if I am the first U.B.C. graduate to be admitted into that august volume?"

"Best wishes for the continued success of the 'Graduate Chronicle'."

LIONEL STEVENSON, Arts '22.

Treasurer's Report

During the 1940-41 Alumni Association year there has been an increase in both the annual membership fees paid and in the new life memberships paid.

In 1939-40 there were only 195 annual membership fees paid, this was increased during the past year to 215. Needless to say there are a large number of alumni who have paid one or more annual fees in previous years but have been negligent in keeping up their yearly payments. Perhaps they do not realize that they are granted a life membership on the completion of ten consecutive years of membership. Approximately six hundred members are delinquent in this respect. If you are one, and wish to continue receiving the Graduate Chronicle please fill out coupon in this issue with your correct name, etc., and mail with one dollar to the treasurer.

In 1939-40 twenty-seven people paid up their life memberships, and in 1940-41 thirty-one have paid life memberships to date. This brings the total life membership to 227.

The Alumni Association is growing gradually and growing at a faster rate year by year. Correspondingly the activities and services are increasing and improving. How much we grow and what we accomplish depends largely what assistance you give your executive both financially and otherwise. Let's keep progressing.

B. A. ROBINSON, Treasurer.

WHAT ARE ALUMNI FEES USED FOR?

The Alumni fees are one dollar a year or ten dollars for life membership. Yearly fees paid for ten years in succession comprise life membership. On completion of life membership a blue and gold membership card is issued.

These fees are used to defray Chronicle publication and mailing costs together with organization expenses of stationary, membership records, etc., Homecoming and the Alumni tea.

Fifty percent of all ten dollar life memberships are set aside in a savings account to be used for bursaries, emergencies or other items at the discretion of the membership.

Fees are augmented by profits from the annual Christmas dance and from sale of advertising space in the Chronicle. We can only do what we can finance, so please pay your fees each year and save us expense of individually billing your account.

ALUMNI IN UNIFORM

MAJOR SHERWOOD LETT

ONE of the earliest graduates of the University of B.C., was recently appointed brigade major of the 6th Infantry Brigade overseas. He was first president of the Alma Mater Society.

Graduates and undergraduates of the University of British Columbia have joined the armed forces in ever-increasing numbers during the last year.

At least 300 graduates are now believed to be on active service, and their number is increasing daily. Women graduates are joining the forces, too, with the establishment of women's auxiliary units.

Casualties are inevitable, and as each new name is added to those who have given their lives for King and Country, more and more graduates join up to replace those who have made the supreme sacrifice.

The many friends of Pilot Officer Geoffrey de Fynton Mackie of Vernon, were shocked last February to learn that he had been killed when his training plane crashed near Belleville, Ont.

He graduated in May 1939, with second class honors in English and history. He was born at Vernon on April 5, 1919, where his father is principal of the Vernon Preparatory School.

While on the campus he was a member of the Players' Club and belonged to Alpha Delta Phi fraternity. He played inside three for the 1939 English rugby team, and also played badminton.

On March 21, Flying Officer Charles Peers Davidson, 27-year-old son of Mrs. Campbell Davidson and the late Dr. Campbell Davidson of Qualicum Beach, lost his life as the result of air operations with the Royal Air Force.

He received his early education at Shawnigan Lake School, and graduated from the U.B.C. in 1935. He was a member of Zeta Psi Fraternity.

A more recent casualty was Pilot Officer J. A. Quick of Squamish, who was killed in an air accident overseas. He was 23, and attended school at Squamish, before attending U.B.C. His father is superintendent of the P.G.E. Railway.

Graduates throughout the province were shocked to hear that Pilot Officer Ralph Henderson, basketball star, was missing in air operations over Germany, but were relieved to hear later that he is a prisoner of war. He went to England in April, and was serving as a navigator in the R.A.F. bomber command.

CAPTAIN VICTOR ODLUM

SON of Major-General Victor Odlum, is second-in-command of a Canadian engineers unit engaged in strengthening defenses at Gibraltar. Lieut. Nelson Odlum is attached to the armored division. Roger Odlum recently completed a special staff course.

A quartette of scientists at R.C.A.F. headquarters consists of Squadron Leader Allan Jones, Sc. '28; Flt. Lt. W. L. Inglis, Sc. '34; Ron Hilton, Sc. '34, and George Anderson, Sc. '31.

Geoffrey Mackie, Arts '39, prominent in Players' Club, was killed February 15, in Brandon, Man., when his R.C.A.F. plane crashed into the ice.

Sub-Lieutenant Ken Grant, one of the first graduates from H.M.C.S. Royal Roads, is now on convoy duty in the Atlantic.

Bill Calder, former basketball manager, is a sub-lieutenant in training at Royal Roads.

Gerry Wood is also a sub-lieutenant R.C.N.V.R.

Lieut. J. D. Cantelon has joined the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps in the East, after taking a course at Gordon Head.

Tommy Meredith, Arts '41, is at the officers' school at Gordon Head.

Arnold McGrath, M.L.A., of Cranbrook, is taking a course in air navigation at Rivers, Man.

Roy Eyre, Commerce '34, has been in the administration branch of the R.C.A.F., since early in the war.

Frank Thorneloe transferred from the army to the R.C.A.F., and subsequently won his commission.

Gil Morrison is in training with the R.C.A.F.

Lieut. J. C. Harmer, formerly president of Men's Athletics, is now attached to the D.C.O.R.'s. Lieut. Doug. Christie is an officer in the same regiment.

Flying Officer Leslie John Ward, who joined the Royal Air Force in 1938, is reported to have been interned in Eire after an aircraft accident.

Lloyd Hobden has a commission as lieutenant in the Rocky Mountain Rangers.

Major William Murphy, who went overseas with the Princess Pats early in the war, and who returned to Vancouver to become FLYING OFFICER JAMES SINCLAIR, M.P.

Has leave from his parliamentary duties, and is now serving overseas.

Lawyers at War

A host of young lawyers, graduates of U.B.C., are now serving in the armed forces. They include Sub-Lieut. Stuart Lane, serving overseas with the navy; Lieut. John Conway, on active service with the Seaforth Highlanders; Lieut. Charlie Locke in the R.C.A.; Archie Thompson, attached to the judge-advocate-general's branch; Ronald Howard in the R.C.A.F.; Lieut. Roy Morrison, attached to the Seaforths; Alex Manson in the R.C.A.F.; Lieut. Ken Beckett, in training at Gordon Head, and Sub-Lieut. Doug. Brown at Royal Roads. Bill Campbell, article as a law student, is in the R.C.A.F.

John Harrison has completed his observer's course in the R.C.A.F., and has been commissioned as a pilot officer.

brigade major, is now deputy assistant quartermaster general of the 5th Armored Division.

Esson Young is a lieutenant on coast defense duty with the R.C.N.V.R.

John Cornish, former editor of the Ubysey, is in the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps, attached to the armored division.

Art Coulter, who joined the R.C.A.F. a year ago, has his commission as a pilot officer.

Tom Pallas is a sergeant observer in the R.C.A.F. He is now overseas.

Ed Kendall, former football star, was commissioned as a pilot officer, after graduating as an air observer.

Sub-Lieutenant Harry Housser, who joined the R.C.N.V.R. early in 1940, took a special gunnery course in England, and was assigned for duty on H.M.S. King George V.

Doug. Patterson of Arts '36, formerly of the B. C. Electric legal staff, is serving overseas as a pilot officer.

Flying Officer Dave Manners, who graduated with honors in physics in '39, won considerable prominence in England for his part in developing a two-channel ground-to-air wireless transmitter.

One of the first U.B.C. women graduates to go on active service is Kay Milligan, who is in the W.A.A.F., Dorothy DeCew and Marian Vance are also among the first recruits.

Major Tom Brown is a member of the Irish Fusiliers. His brother, Lieut. Malcolm Brown, is taking a special course in the East.

Major Donald Worthington, son of Ald. G. H. Worthington, who is serving with the D.C.O.R.'s, is believed to be one of the youngest majors in the Canadian Army. He is 27.

Andrew Nash and Geoffrey Marples, who graduated last May with honors in botany, were both in the uniform of the R.C.A.F. when they received their sheepskins. Both took the radio technicians course at the U.B.C. this summer. Nash was president of the Artsmen's Undergraduate Society. Marples is a native of Windermere.

John Garratt, former Ubysses editor, is in the Corps of Signals.

Hampton Gray, Arts '41, is a sub-lieutenant in the fleet air arm.

Recent graduates and undergraduates now serving in the R.C.A.F. include Duff Anand, Tommy Williams, Fred Smith, Graham Finlay, John McCutcheon, Jack Filteau and Bill McKelvie. Jack West and Jack Roberts are in the army. Ernie Teagle, former regimental-sergeant-major of the O.T.C., is now on active service. Lieut.

Leslie Pronger is in England. Bill West recently graduated from Gordon Head and is in the R.C.A.F.

Dick Farrington, former captain of the Canadian Rugby team, is in training as an observer in the R.C.A.F. at Winnipeg.

Dr. Gordon Baker of the Metropolitan Health Board, is now a surgeon-lieutenant in the R.C.N.V.R., while his brother, Russell Baker, of the city legal staff, is a sub-lieutenant in the same service.

Max Stewart has forsaken school teaching at Chilliwack to join the regional control branch of the R.C.A.F., as has Don MacTavish. Both were formerly outstanding on track squads.

The first Chinese to receive a commission in the Canadian Army is Lieut. Roger Cheng of Vancouver. He graduated from McGill University in engineering, but was a popular member of the U.B.C. contingent of the C.O.T.C.

David Crawley and Noel Harrison are in the School of Air Armaments, R.C.A.F., at Mountain View, Ont.

Bus Ryan is a captain in the Irish Fusiliers and Frank Rush is a lieutenant in the same unit.

Bill Masterson has a commission in the Canadian Scottish. Dick Wilson is in the Seaforths.

Peter McTavish, Hugh Palmer and Wilf Stokvis are sub-lieutenants in the R.C.N.V.R. at Halifax.

Sandy Nash, president of the A.M.U.S. last year, is overseas with the R.C.A.F., after taking a wireless course. Hugh M. Ellis also graduated in the R.C.A.F. radio course.

Flying Officer Don Macdonald, Arts '34, is a flying instructor on the prairies.

Johnnie McLean, Arts '31, of Vernon, is taking an officers' course at Gordon Head.

Barney Boe, husky football star, is a flying instructor at Summerside, P.E.I.

John A. McGee of Bamfield, who graduated in 1935, is serving overseas as a pilot officer.

Norman Depoe, who has been in the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals since before the war, is taking an officers' training course at Brockville.

Major Bill Mathers is officer commanding an O.T.C. camp for Canadians in England.

Jim Asselstine and Walter Friker, both of Victoria, are in the R.C.A.F.

David L. Monroe, who graduated in mining '36, is with the Royal Canadian Engineers.

Lyon Lightstone is attached to the Imperial forces in England.

Lieut. P. R. Layard is holding down an important job overseas as A.D.C. to Lieut.-General McNaughton.

If you didn't, if you felt there were many names missing from these pages that should have been here, perhaps it is your own fault.

Did you ever send a personal item to the Editor?

If every graduate receiving this Chronicle would sit down and write a brief note telling what he or she is now doing, and what his or her closest friends are doing there would be no gap in the Chronicle.

U.B.C. graduates overseas have written that the Chronicle is one of their most welcome links with carefree days of the past.

Is it not possible, then, for every man or woman who passed through U.B.C. classrooms to assist the editorial staff in making this publication a fuller record of postgraduate life?

Please send communications to Margaret Morrison, care University of B.C., Vancouver.

The capital city has now become the headquarters for dozens of U.B.C. graduates, who have taken up posts in the engineering, trade, and war departments of the Canadian Government.

A visit to Ottawa, February 27, by President L. S. Klinck, occasioned an alumni gathering at the Chateau Laurier, arranged by Mrs. Phyllis Turner, Arts '25, and Dr. A. E. Richards.

Among recent Ottawa newcomers to welcome the president, were Dr. Allon Peebles, executive director of the Unemployment Insurance Commission and Dr. Walter Couper, of the staff of the International Labour Office, now on loan to the Department of Labour.

Ronnie Graham, Sc. '34, electrical engineer in the Department of National Defense.

J. E. Craster, Sc. '30, with the inspection division of the U. K. Technical Mission.

The Department of Munitions and Supply has drawn in a number of U.B.C. alumni to cope with the rising tide of war orders.

John Logan, Arts '37, was one of the first to join this department, which also includes Sheila Gibbs, Com. '39 and Jean McGeochy, Arts '30. Betty McCallum is on the staff of the Department of National Defense, along with Margaret Miller.

Alan Gill, Arts '24, listed as Assistant Director General in the Munitions Branch of the Dept. of M. and S.

Jim Beveridge, Arts '38, has a hand in the Canada Carries On films, with the Government Motion Picture Bureau.

George Luxton, Arts '34, Com. '39, member of research staff of the Bank of Canada. (Recent father.)

Alfred Rive, Arts '21, now serves as First Secretary of the Department and continues as Acting Canadian Member of the Governing Body of the International Labour Organization.

James Gibson, Arts '31, third secretary in the Department and, for the past year and a half, a member of Mackenzie King's personal staff.

Hideo Iwasaki, Com. '38, on the Chancellery staff of the Japanese Legation in Ottawa.

Doris McDermott, Arts '38, recent addition to the Department of National Revenue.

Dr. Hugh Morrison, Arts '30, on leave of absence from Vancouver Normal School to serve as Assistant Editor of courses for Canadian Legion Educational Services in Ottawa.
