Auditorium Crowded on Presentation of Christmas Plays by 'Varsity Talent

NEW MEMBERS OF PLAYERS' CLUB SHOW ABILITY TO CARRY ON WORK OF FORMER YEARS

Thursday, Nov. 27th, saw the opening performance of the best presentation of Christmas playlets yet staged by the U. B. C. Players' Club. "First-nighters"—ready, perhaps, to extend a sympathetic interest to those making their "first appearance on any stage," or to overlook any contretemps in the matter of scene-shifting—breathed a sigh of relief before the first play had proceeded far, and settled down to enjoyment unmarred by any amateurish mistakes on the part of the actors.

In the selection of plays, or rather playlets, this season, the Players' Club has adopted an ambitious policy. A spice of novelty was introduced by the presentation of a fourteenth century miracle play, "The Sacrifice of Isaac," and a mediaeval French farce, "Master Pierre Patelin," as well as the more usual selection of two modern plays by Masefield and Pinero.

A noticeably tense feeling held the audience during the entire performance of the miracle play, which reproduced a section of mediaeval life—the acting of Scriptural scenes by the choir boys of the fifteenth century. Mr. C. T. Robson, as Abraham, and Miss Evelyn Eveleigh, as his son Isaac, played the principal parts in this, while Mr. Manuel sustained the role of the Angel admirably. The effect of the chanting of the choir boys with their swinging censers, and the well delivered exposition of Mr. Coates, was impressive and bore out the solemnity of the scene.

"Master Pierre Patelin" proved a spirited farce, which enraptured the audience from start to finish. Mr. M. J. Saunders, in the title role, played the part of the sousless man of the learned profession to perfection, while Mr. Kirby's artistic imitation of a sheep took the audience by storm. Miss Helen Clark, of Arts '23, took the part of the much-tried wife of the needy lawyer, and Mr. J. C. Berto and Mr. A. Webster filled the roles of Mons. Joceaulime and the Judge respectively.

Of an entirely different nature was the next play. "The Locked Chest" proved of most compelling interest, and, with its swift movement to a highly dramatic

Judges Decide in Favor of "Aggies"

SCIENCE GOES DOWN TO DEFEAT IN INTER-FACULTY DEBATE —SPEAKERS PRAISED

On Wednesday evening last the inter-faculty debate between Agriculture and Science was held. The subject was, "Resolved that Canada's railroads be nationalized." Messrs. R. Hodson and D. A. Wallace, Science, supported the affirmative, while the negative was upheld by Messrs. C. Traves and C. P. Leckie, of Agriculture. President Klinck, Dr. Davidson and Prof. Boving acted as judges.

"Because of her geographical position," declared Mr. Hodson, leader of the affirmative, "the railway is practically Canada's only means of transport. Therefore, it should be run for the convenience of the nations—in other words, for the people by the people." Furthermore, if the various lines were consolidated, much needed expense would be eliminated for stations, offices, etc.

Mr. Traves, leader of the negative, traced the development of some of Canada's railways. He quoted figures to prove conclusively that the Government methods of construction were most extravagant. In a vigorous, convincing speech, he fully showed the inefficiency of the present government-owned railways throughout the world.

The supporter of the affirmative, Mr. Wallace, continuing his colleague's arguments, pointed out that fully two per cent. of the profits of private companies were spent in rectifying mistakes and in legal controversies. He quoted the postoffice as an example of Government

UNDERGRADUATES WIN SOCCER CLASSIC BY SCORING ONLY GOAL OF GAME

The Time—Wednesday, November 26th, 1919; 3.15 p.m.

The Place—K.E.H.S. Campus.

Professors—Davidson, Hutchinson, Kilham, Clark, Elliot, Hare, Boving, Larson, Foley, Jones, Angus.

Undergrads—Keenleyside, Baker, Wolverton, Mitchell, Swencisky, Day, Fleming, Stewart, Denham, Jackson, Jones.

The Game—'X' 1, 'E' 0; 'P' 1, etc.

The Result—Professors, 0; Students, 1.

The Description

Briefly, the game was between the Students' forwards and the Professors' backs. Urged on by the rapturous applause of the side-lines, the Profs. made several dramatic attempts to pierce the Undergrad. defense, but Wolverton and Baker were always in the way. The Overgrads. were undoubtedly the favorite team, and the defense work of Dr. Hutchinson and Dr. Davidson was immensely popular. "John," however, was the most popular figure on the ice, and the applause reached a climax when he succeeded in bringing his foot into violent contact with Swencisky's facade. The scoring, which was the least interesting feature of the game, was accomplished near the end of the first half, when Joe Denham slipped the ball past Dr. Davidson from a scrimmage in front. The contortions of the players, as they attempted to retain their balance on the slippery field, added greatly to the enjoyment of the spectators. When Foley failed to get the right angle of elevation on the ball from the penalty line in the second half, the Profs.' one and only chance to score went soaring over the goal-posts. For the rest of the game Keenleyside was left in shivering isolation.

The best feature of the game was the fact that the Profs. proved themselves such good sports as to turn out at all. Such games increase the respect as well as the liking of the students for their instructors, and after the game on Wednesday the Professors were hailed as the best of sports by everyone who attended the game. Which leads to the remark that it would be no bad idea to make this game an annual affair. The interest taken in the first affair of the

ARTS '22 WOMEN UPHOLD REPUTATION

The postponed meeting of the Women's Lit. was held on Friday, Nov. 28th, when the Freshettes and Sophomores met in their annual debate to decide the question: "Resolved that debating as a formal exercise is beneficial to the mental interests of debaters and audience."

The subject was upheld on the affirmative by Misses L. Cowdell and Reid for Arts '22, and on the negative by Misses M. Portsmouth and K. Allardyce for Arts '23.

Miss Cowdell dealt with the value of debating to the individual, maintaining that it strengthens power of independent thinking, trains the debater in sifting important from trivial, and demands an accurate knowledge of sound facts.

Miss Portsmouth argued that formal debating fosters love of argument for argument's sake, rather than an intelligent knowledge based on fact; that there is a tendency to look at the question from one viewpoint, whereas truth of matter must be looked at fairly and squarely from all angles.

Miss Reid pointed out that, by previous preparation, a debater is enabled to present to his audience a broader view of subjects, and that he presents for debaters in embryo a model in manner and style of delivery.

Miss Allardyce, with illustrations, held that the emotional element conquers cold logic and most often decides our opinions.

The rebuttal was brisk, clear, and decisive. Professor Angus acted as judge, and, after an instructive criticism on the merits and demerits of the individual speakers, gave his decision in favor of the affirmative.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU FOR U. B. C. STUDENTS

A job for you!

If any student wishes to work (for real pay) during the Christmas vacation, watch the bulletin boards for announcements. A permanent Student Employment Bureau has been established by the Alumni Association, with the view of bringing students into touch with employers who have positions to offer. It is the purpose of the society to remain active not only during holiday periods, but also to be of service to anyone who wishes part time work during the session. The first announcement has already been posted in the Arts building, giving a list of positions to be filled during the Christmas season.

Further information may be received from L. H. Jackson (phone, Seymour 3505), 602 Pacific Building, or Miss Jean Robinson, Seymour 6164.

NUMBER, PLEASE!

Will those students who have neglected to hand in their addresses and telephone numbers to the office kindly attend to this matter at once. A great deal of inconvenience and annoyance, both to the office and to student organizations, is often caused from incomplete records. Don't put it off—do it now.

DR. HEBB LECTURES ON SOLAR SYSTEM

On Tuesday evening last Dr. Hebb gave a very interesting lecture on "The Solar System and Some of its Theories" to a well-filled hall.

After a brief outline of several theories advanced from time to time as to the cause of the sun's heat, he explained that that which is most generally believed at present is a combination of the radio-activity, heat of contraction of the sun's crust and heat of meteoric impacts theories.

Bode's hypothesis of the possibility of a new planet being found between Mars and Jupiter was then shown to be substantiated in part by the discovery at a later date of numerous planetoids in the position suspected.

The action of tides on the earth's crust and in the oceans was spoken of. The description of the influence of the planets on one another brought the lecture to a close.

Mr. J. H. Mennie will speak on Tuesday, December 9th, about "Explosives."

CHRISTMAS RECITAL ON FRIDAY EVENING

To-morrow evening the University Musical Society will hold a Student Christmas Recital in the Auditorium. All students and Faculty members have been invited. Owing to the limited capacity of the hall, the distribution of tickets has been curtailed, and these must be presented at the door.

The chief feature of the programme will be the choruses by the men's and women's glee clubs. Vocal and instrumental solos will be rendered by members of the society, and, as an added attraction, the double male quartette will sing a few rollicking college songs.

A number of selections will be rendered by the members of the University orchestra, who have been practising faithfully during the Fall term. Many new members have joined this year and will make their first public appearance to-morrow night.

JUDGES DECIDE

efficiency. "The same prosperous conditions will prevail when the Government takes over the railroads," he stated.

Mr. Leckie showed how unsuccessful Government ownership had been in other parts of the world. It has not justified itself in European countries, he declared. Then why should it be tried out in Canada?

While the judges were arriving at their decision, the chairman, Mr. Rive, in a short speech, frankly admitted that the high quality and vigor of the debate had greatly astounded him, and that it was in every way superior to that between Arts '20 and Arts '22.

President Klinck, acting as spokesman for the judges, gave the speakers many useful hints for "the next time," and complimented them on the high quality of the debate. The decision was rendered in favor of Agriculture, the negative side.

ERRING PROFESSORS

The following paragraph, from the editorial column of "The Gateway," the student publication of the University of Alberta, will bear reprinting. We have the same trouble in the University of British Columbia:

"We have been requested to mention the fact that certain professors are guilty of that unpardonable sin of trespassing on the interval allowed the students between each lecture period. This question is one which is regularly discussed in our columns at least once a year, and much more frequently in other circles. We trust the offenders will bear in mind that even the most studious of us enjoy a few minutes' breathing space between lectures on a programme of three or four successive hours, especially with the temperature which now prevails in most of our classrooms. There are only a few who transgress, and we trust that they will consider the feelings of the poor sufferers, and give no further cause for complaint. We would also urge the students to play their part by being on time at all lectures, and thus giving the professor the maximum time allotted."

COLLEGE SPIRIT

Much has been said in these columns during the past two years of the college spirit prevailing in the University of British Columbia. In fact, the existence of such a spirit, or of anything bearing the slightest resemblance to it, has often been questioned. There are many who state that "there ain't no such animal." Are these people justified in making this assertion? Apparently they are.

Out of a total of 893 students enrolled in the University, only 404—less than half—are active members of any college organization. This is no mere guess. These figures have been secured after a careful investigation. There are 404 men and women attending U. B. C. who take an interest in the University and who are doing their best to establish the proper spirit in this institution. But what about the other 489? What good are they to U.B.C.? Of course, it is nice to say that there are almost nine hundred students attending the University; but, when this statement is made, the usefulness of our excess baggage has come to an end.

Probably the greater part of these students are in their first year, and offer the explanation that they do not know which societies to join. This is a poor excuse, when they have had three months in which to investigate. Others may attend the lectures, spend a few hours in the reading-room, pack up their books, and go home, having no interest in their University outside of their studies. We know a certain professor who has a well-defined opinion of such students. We agree with him.

The table below takes in the majority of the societies in the University. Some, of course, have been left out, since they have no list of active members. Others have been eliminated, since their membership is composed of students who belong to at least one other organization. In the first column is to be found the present membership; in the second column is the number of students in that society who do not belong to any other society standing above it in the list. Following is the table:

EX CATHEDRA

By the Editor for the Week

Somebody is always taking the joy out of life. For nearly a month we have been congratulating ourselves on that historic victory over the Centrals out at the Point. And now the Park Commissioners politely inform us that our "jazz wagon" cut up the track about the oval to such an extent that, unless $75 is immediately forthcoming, someone will have to be sacrificed and go to jail.

For a sure sign of approaching exams., just glance into the library.

About two hundred have already signed up for the Victoria trip. You can't afford to miss this outing. Hand in your name now, or you will be too late.

Mr. Tansley is anxious to meet the fellow who said he wished it would snow every day.

Sherwood Lett and John Mennie, our first Rhodes scholars, will leave in a few days for England, to begin their work at Oxford. The best wishes of all 'Varsity students go with them.

The editor for the week heaves a sigh of relief. No more "Uby SSEY" troubles until after Christmas—and perhaps not then.

The extreme pessimist: The Freshman who is already signing himself as L. R. Found, Arts '24.

What's the use of studying for the coming examinations? The world is scheduled to come to an end on December 17th.

Correspondence

All correspondence must be written legibly, on one side of the paper only, and may be signed by a pen-name, but must be accompanied by name and class of the writer.

Editor "Uby SSEY."

Dear Sir:—The answer given by the Arts Men's executive to the charge that many men of that Faculty have not been able to secure tickets to their own dance is that adequate notice was given them as to when and where the tickets would be on sale, the inference being that, had they been on hand at the right time, all would have secured tickets. Manifestly, this inference is incorrect. Exclusive of a number of graduates and officers of other faculties that it seems necessary to invite, about two hundred tickets were available for Arts men. A simple arithmetic calculation would have told the executive this. They surely knew that there were approximately three hundred and fifty Arts men in the University, and that nearly half of them would necessarily be disappointed, yet tickets were sold indiscriminately to any that chose to ask for them. May we suggest that next year, if the number allowed to attend the Arts men's dance is again limited, that Arts men, and especially those of the upper years, be given first opportunity to secure tickets.

ARTS '21ITE.

Editor "Uby SSEY."

Dear Sir:—At examination time we are given numbers, ostensibly for purposes of identification, instead of our more usual appellations. Then why do the presiding examiners so often ask us to sign our names to our papers? Some of us, I believe, would much prefer not to own the rubbish we write other than by number.

Now that I have eased my mind of a grievance, might I suggest that we sing college songs while waiting for our Professors to enter the lecture rooms? Such, I am told, was the custom at Toronto University some years ago, and very probably is still.

D.

Editor "Uby SSEY."

Dear Sir:—I should like to take advantage of your paper to express my thanks to the members of Arts '22, and particularly to those who labored in the preparation of the eloquent presentation I received on Friday. The artistic temperament of Miss Agony (am I correct?) and Miss Rowan is quite apparent. I am also indebted to Mr. G. G. King; his cigarettes were appreciated by Mr. de Pencier as well as myself. On the whole, it was quite effective, and I should like to express our heartfelt appreciation.

Yours,
G. W. B. F.

Editor "Uby SSEY."

Dear Sir:—In your issue of last week there appeared a letter worthy of notice rather for the kindly and unselfish spirit permeating it than for the amount of intelligence which it displayed. It is hardly worth answering, but criticism, even if it is foolish, should not be left entirely unchallenged.

If there are "two hundred students" unable to secure tickets for the Arts dance, it is entirely their own fault! Everyone knows that sufficient notice was given regarding the days on which tickets could be secured. Announcements a week previous to the sale of tickets appeared on the regular notice boards, and also in the "Uby SSEY." Wednesday morning, November 19th, notices were posted in both Arts and Physics buildings to the effect that it was the day, and yet, Torserfer and his weeping, wailing and gnashing two hundred did not have enough interest in the biggest dance of the college year to walk down to the Council room to secure their tickets—and now they are seeking to find excuses for their own laziness.

It is indeed a shame the sale of tickets could not have continued until the evening of November 4th, for by that time a few of our brilliant students, bubbling over with enthusiasm and college spirit, might possibly have waked up. We apologize for being early—a grievous fault it is—but, oh! that Torserfer and his tardy companions would cultivate the habit.

Yours,
SAUM.

DELIVERS LECTURE TO MEMBERS OF W. U. S.

The first of a series of lectures planned by the executive of the Women's Undergraduate Society, on "Vocations for Women," was given by Mrs. Boving on Thursday afternoon. In a most fascinating manner, Mrs. Boving, who has a thorough grasp of her subject, told the girls assembled of the advantages of a physical training, and the great opportunities which will shortly open up for women with a real knowledge of the profession. Citing the numerous public playgrounds of Montreal, with their expert attendants, she held that before long Vancouver will see established similar places, where children can play safely and receive competent instruction in athletics and games.

It is very unfortunate that there was such a poor attendance at this meeting, as this series of lectures is for the benefit of the women of the University, and will well repay the time and interest shown by those who attend.

'VARSITY SECONDS

DEFEAT K.C.'S, 5-3

Although all other football games were called off on Saturday, the mere fact of a snowy field did not deter the 'Varsity seconds in the least, and they ploughed their way to victory over a team comprised of K.C.'s, Firemen and others, to the tune of 5 points to 3.

The first half was all 'Varsity and the K.C.'s were hard put to defend their line, the greasy ball and slow field helping them considerably. Toft and Scott, 'Varsity halves, were working hard, and the forwards, led by Gunning, were on the ball at all times. The half ended with no score.

The ball was kept in 'Varsity territory most of the second half, and, with the time over half gone, Wally Baker, K.C., left outside three-quarter, broke through and got over the corner for a touch. The kick was not converted.

'Varsity, with a three-to-nothing defeat staring them in the face, bucked up and forced the play up the field. With a few minutes to go, the K.C.'s, in a five-yard scrum, heeled the ball over their line, and, when the bunch was untangled, Gunning was found on the bottom with a death grip on the ball. Rout Harvey, with a nice kick, converted, and the whistle blew, with 'Varsity two points up.

Scott, Tofte and Gunning played a strong game for 'Varsity, while the Try-hits and Townley, at fullback, were the best of the K.C.'s.

The following represented U. B. C.: Broadfoot, Harvey, Hearst, Russell, Solloway, Arkley, Tofte, Scott, Meekison, MacPherson, Wallace, Hatch, Johnston and Gunning.

AUDITORIUM CROWDED

conclusion, kept the attention of the spectators focussed on the discovery by the young wife of the utter baseness of her husband's character. Miss Beatrice Johnson gave an excellent rendering of the part of Vidgis, and Mr. G. H. Scott gave a striking interpretation of the tired and greedy farmer, Thord. Goddi. The other actors in this play were Mr. E. W. Jackson, as Toroff; Mr. Joe de Pencier, as Ingield, and Messrs. A. Crawford and R. Hunter, his attendants.

The last part of the performance was in the nature of comedy pure and simple—"Playgoers," by Sir Arthur Pinero. Mr. Bruce Fraser and Miss Kirsteen Leveson gave a fine presentation of the trials of the master and mistress of the house in their desire to provide their domestics with an evening's elevating entertainment. The servants, Misses K. Stuart, A. Berkeley, G. E. Mackinnon and N. Willis, filled their roles admirably, while Mr. Lacey J. Fisher, as the Odd Man, made a decided hit. On the conclusion of the act, an artistic floral offering was presented to Mr. Fraser.

The Players' Club deserves to be congratulated on the very successful presentation of these none too easy plays, and the members of the student body will look forward with anticipation to the great dramatic event of the 'Varsity year—the annual spring play.

kind presages a continued and even heightened enthusiasm if they are continued.

The Sidelights

A lot of money changed hands after the game.

Mr. Ridington played hard, putting up a very good game.

So did Alf. Swencisky; but he requests that, in future, the librarian keep his feet off his face, or his "pedal extremities off the prosaic."

Talk about Worrall or Gwyther! Have you ever seen Doc. Davidson kick?

Professors Jones, Larsen, Foley, Elliot and Angus must have had a row. They absolutely refused to work together.

Did you get that, Professor Foley? He's a bally fine player, too, don'-cher-know.

Mr. Elliot, of the Bolsheviki sweater, was the hardest working man on the forward line. He demonstrated admirably to the Freshies, the Freshmores and the Freshettes "the co-efficient of linear expansion" as applied to the ground.

Our special correspondent tells us that the Freshettes went to see Professor Larsen.

There were more of the fair sex at the game than at any other this year. The male students were quite jealous of the Profs.

Where did the Chemistry Department get that hat?

Doc. Clark smoked at intervals during the game to get up steam. When he opened 'er up sufficiently, the way he went 'round the corners on two wheels was a sight to behold.

Doc. Hutchinson's pseudopodia were much in evidence, and the way he fed the forwards was one of the features of the game.

At one time we thought there was going to be some excitement, when husky Joe Denham rolled up his sleeves beside the microscope.

Their alibi is that no respectable ball would go anywhere near "Old Hughie's" socks.

The way that Johnny Weld rooted for his namesake on the Profs.' team was worthy of both the rooter and rootee.

SOPHS. VS. AGGIES

The next of the series of men's inter-class debates, held by the Men's Literary Society, will be between Second Year Arts and Agriculture. This was decided on Wednesday afternoon, by matching coins. Arts '22 and Agriculture turned "heads," and Arts '20 "tails." The Seniors will meet the winners of the coming debate in the final.

BARRON HOTEL RESTAURANT

A DIFFERENT PLACE

Often you hear it said: "The Barron is different!"

MAYBE it's the quality of the cuisine. Perhaps it's the superiority of the music. Again, it may be the dance floor—or the atmosphere that pervades—or the character of the people.

PERHAPS it is all three—for the BARRON is different, and that is why this expression has become so respected.

THE COLLEGE CAT

There is a better world, they say, where shining hosts, in bright array, are always playing at shooting stars, or twanging on their gold guitars. You breathe the pure scholastic air, for all are educated there; St. Peter, as he turns the key, presents you with a Ph. D. And matters not what tongue you speak, for all are talking fluent Greek. Upon that bright and sunny shore there'll be no lectures evermore; and, banished grief and heavy care, there is no sugar shortage there; but you may live in peace for aye, and see a French farce every day. On snowy pinions let us fly to seek our happy home on high, where Profs. can never make a din, nor Freshies ever enter in.

WILL ATTEMPT TO REVIVE PRACTICES

In reply to the complaint registered in last week's issue of the "Ubyssy," it is brought to the attention of the students (not for the first time) that University Song Books are on sale in the Students' Council room. Every effort will be made to arrange a noon-hour practice. Up to the present, the auditorium has almost invariably been used for the Musical Society, the Players' Club, special speakers to the University, or meetings of the Alma Mater Society, the Literary Department, etc. In some instances the hall has been vacant because a meeting of some society has been postponed at the last minute—leaving no time to arrange for a song practice, e.g., last Thursday.

DEER MERTEL—JOE

Deer Mertel:—

Well, Mertel, I wish you was here last Thurs. nite. They is a bunch of actors in this University who formed a club and which do plays, and on Thurs. did 4 of them, also on Fri. and Sat. but I only went one nite. The show was fine. In the 1st play a fello was going to kill his sun, which they said was his sun but who reely wasnt because it was a girl. They fooled lots of peeple, but they couldnt fool me. You know what I am, Mertel. Well anyway they didnt kill the kid because a guy dressed in white, which was bigger and stronger than the killeing guy, said not to. I laffed all through the 2nd one. In this they was a crazy Frenchman who rode around on a broom and put a fryeing pan on his head. The 3rd was all about a farmer who had a hedake and wanted his supper, and his wife who had a cusin who killed a man and wouldnt get his supper. Lots of people laffed at this play, but I didnt. I no what it is to be hungry, Mertel. In the last play they was a lot of servants and one was always cryeing. They was a guy who needed a shave and was looking for a list of cooties most of the time. The boss wanted to take the bunch to the show but only the fello wanted to go. Maybe he thot he wood find his cooties there. I wish someone wood ask me to go to a show, Mertel.

Well, Mertel, you remember I told you they was to be a football game between the profs. and the students. They played the game and the students one. The game was lots of fun and the profs. all wore funny close. They was one big prof. named John, who had a beard, who kicked the biggest guy on the other side in the face. He had lots of nerve, Mertel.

I have lots of fun at this University, Mertel, but exams. come a week from Sat. and if I dont pass I get kicked out. I hope I pass, Mertel.

JOE.
