THINKING PEOPLE HARD

CONVINCE, CO-OP.

EXPERT SAYS

"The less people think, the easier they are to persuade." Norman McKenzie, University Extension worker, told undergraduates in a lecture Monday afternoon, that if thinking is absent from our daily life, we are liable to be used by the enemies of liberty.

In a brief talk, the vigorous young leader outlined a program of education for the benefit of the working classes which will be carried out under the co-operative movement.

Mr. McKenzie is one of a number of undergraduate groups who are organizing study groups across Canada for the purpose of research work. He advocates co-op as the only answer to the present social problems.

Mr. McKenzie stated that the credit unions are unable to influence the working class, and
that to do so, a collective effort
must be made.

Mr. McKenzie also said that the credit unions are not able to influence the working class, and
that to do so, a collective effort
must be made.

The executive of the N.P.C.U.
has been directed to the Canadian Government, and has started to circulate information amongst the different Students Council of the Universities in Canada.

MUGILL LETTER

A copy of a letter which was sent to all students of McGill University was enclosed with the letter from the N.P.C.U. executive. McGill students wrote to their Chancellor,

W. E. B. Nestor, their President, L.
W. Morgan, and to the N.P.C.U. leadership. The letter stated that fees will be returned to those students, and that all those students, whether or not they are able to access the service of the N.P.C.U. leadership, will be given a personal invitation to the University Auditorium.

In spite of the fact that this letter was sent out by administrative authorities in McGill University, the N.P.C.U. leadership gave its endorsement of the proposed unemployment plan to the University Auditorium.

But our Council did not spend the time discussing possible unemployment, as determined by the policy of their Chancellor and Principal.

Botanical Gardens Has Tribute
To Peaceful Ideals Of Nisei

By VIRGINIA GALLOWAY

In a peaceful corner of the Botanical Gardens there is a tribute to the peaceful ideals of a group of young Nisei, men and women. The memor of the Japanese Internment Camps in the West will be remembered.

The memorial was erected on the University campus by the students of the University of British Columbia. It is a monument to the memory of the Nisei who are now serving in the armed forces of the United States.

The monument consists of a plaque and a bronze statue of a seated figure of a young woman.
The plaque bears the inscription:

“Peace memorial in the Botanical Gardens, erected by the Class of 1943 in recognition of the contribution of the Nisei students to the University of British Columbia and in memory of their friends who are serving in the armed forces of the United States.”

The sculpture is the work of Gayle Kelsey, a member of the University’s Class of 1943.

The dedication ceremony will be held on Thursday, October 6, 1943, at 2:30 p.m. in the Union
of British Columbia.

The dedication ceremony will include a presentation of flowers
by members of the Class of 1943,
and a speech by Gayle Kelsey.

The monument is located near the south entrance of the Union
of British Columbia.

The University of British Collumbia has a long tradition of recognizing the contributions of its students. The dedication of this monument is a fitting tribute to one of the University’s most valuable resources—its students.

The University is grateful for the generosity of Gayle Kelsey, and all those who have contributed to the establishment of this monument.

We hope that the dedication of this monument will serve as a reminder of the importance of peace and understanding in our world today.

HANDBOOK

The Handbook for the present session is at last available in student offices, after considerable delay in the process of its publication.

No blame can be attached to those entrusted with the task of compiling the Handbook, for the handwriting and printing is excellent. The chief cause of the delay was the uncertainty during the early days of 1943 of when the Handbook (which has described the present European conflict) would be completed.

This year, the new Handbook, which is now available in student offices, is much longer and more comprehensive than in previous years. The number of Handbooks published has increased from one to two, and the publication of the Handbook has been made more frequent.

The Handbook is a valuable source of information for students, and is recommended to all students who wish to keep up to date with the latest developments in the world of education.

BRIEFING

July 17, 1943, the Japanese House of Peers, and an earnest advocate of the ideals of the Nisei. The Nisei were widely known and admired scholars, who displayed a good understanding of the relationship between Japan and America.

The monument in the University campus is a reminder of the Japanese Society and the Japanese Association of the University, who were linked to the students of the University, and to the Japanese community.

The monument is open to the public, and is a fitting tribute to the Nisei who have contributed so much to the University of British Columbia.

The University of British Columbia is proud of its students, and is committed to recognizing their contributions. The dedication of this monument is a fitting tribute to one of its most valuable resources—its students.

We hope that the dedication of this monument will serve as a reminder of the importance of peace and understanding in our world today.
ENRAGED STUDENTS SINK UNDER INFLUENCE OF DANGEROUS DRUGS

BY MIMI SCHEPPEL

Is the University really succumbing to the drug habit? A recent trip to the University and surrounding areas has convinced me that we should be doing more to dissuade the students from taking these harmful substances.

The first place we visited was the student union area, where we found a number of students sitting around smoking cigarettes and talking about their drug experiences. It was clear that they were under the influence of illegal substances.

Next we went to the library, where we observed several students using illegal drugs. They were tooting vials of meprobamate and were obviously under the influence of the medication.

We then went to the campus, where we discovered a number of students using illegal drugs. They were tooting vials of meprobamate and were obviously under the influence of the medication.

Finally, we went to the fraternity house area, where we saw a number of students using illegal drugs. They were tooting vials of meprobamate and were obviously under the influence of the medication.

In conclusion, we believe that the University should take firmer action against the drug habit. We urge the administration to take immediate steps to prevent the continued use of illegal substances on campus.

Varsity Takes Gridiron Opener 10-8

Snatch Thriller From Lions In Dying Moments

Canadian football experts were completely baffled Saturday, when the "woefully weak" Gridiron champions, led by legendary coach George B. B. Vrakas, proved to be the find of the season, backing up the line and interchanging the play as brilliant as those new uniforms of the team.

It took a Hollywood ending to pull the game out of the fire for the Lions. Their one-point lead was erased in the last quarter by Varsity, and in the final moments the score was tied at 8-8, leaving the self-styled experts holding the prognosticatory bag, the final score: 10-8.

The victory was the result of the Lions' inability to convert a fourth-down play in their own territory, allowing the Ball to advance to the 1-yard line. From there, Varsity fullback Joe Smith, a veteran of many games, scored the winning touchdown.

The Lions' line stars were Lee Straight in the middle position, Hank Stradiotti who had followed Smith on the play, and Billy Smith who had blocked the ball on the last yard line. The Lions, under the leadership of Freddie Smith, had executed a well-planned game plan.

The Radio Society on the Campus announced that auditions will be held Saturday, October 7, on the Public Address system in the Stadium for student announcers to handle the broadcast of Canadian Football games from the Stadium over the wireless. All who are interested in trying out for the job are requested to turn in their names with the Sports Editor or on the notice board in the Publications Office.

Theatre Club is planning a broadcast of the game on Saturday, October 7, to provide an opportunity for those who cannot attend the game to hear the action. The broadcast will be available to all students and will be broadcast over the campus radio system.

Theatre Club has chosen class team captains for the respective classes, and the Athletic Directors have not yet been chosen but the Athletic Directors have been chosen by the students of the student heroes.
