VOL. XXV
VANCOUVER, B.C., FRIDAY, JANUARY 22, 1943
No. 23

Audience Performs At Meet

A MOB OF boisterous students packed the auditorium on Tuesday night to hear a presentation by the University of British Columbia's C.O.T. orchestra. At the meeting, which was held in a room adjacent to the auditorium, a group of students gave a highly successful performance. The audience was enthusiastic throughout and gave热烈 applause at the conclusion of the performance.

New Jabez Skit Uncovered Tuesday Noon In Aud.

The feature attraction, 12 luscious beauties who are vieing for the honor of Queen of the Welsh, Delta Gamma; Audrey Buchanan, Waitakere; Margaret Bell, Kappa Alpha Theta; Anne Beddome, Alpha Delta Pi; Daphne Ryan, Alpha Gamma Delta; and Phyllis Bishop, Gamma Phi Beta.

Ball Queen Nominees

The feature attraction, 12 luscious beauties who are vieing for the honor of Queen of the Welsh, Delta Gamma; Audrey Buchanan, Waitakere; Margaret Bell, Kappa Alpha Theta; Anne Beddome, Alpha Delta Pi; Daphne Ryan, Alpha Gamma Delta; and Phyllis Bishop, Gamma Phi Beta.

The elections will be held on Tuesday, January 26. This event will consist of a parade through the streets of Vancouver, followed by a reception in the Double Committee Room. The parade will be led by the University of British Columbia's C.O.T. orchestra, with the band playing popular tunes. The reception will feature food and drinks, as well as a dance floor for the students to enjoy.

Nominations For AMS President Open Until Jan. 28

For Nominations For the Alma Mater Society's President and Vice-President, which are due on Tuesday, January 26, unless notice to the contrary is given.

All students are eligible to vote, and the election will be held on Wednesday, February 3. All students must be enrolled in the University of British Columbia to be eligible to vote. The candidates will be announced in the newspaper in advance of the election.

The elections will be held on Tuesday, January 26. This event will consist of a parade through the streets of Vancouver, followed by a reception in the Double Committee Room. The parade will be led by the University of British Columbia's C.O.T. orchestra, with the band playing popular tunes. The reception will feature food and drinks, as well as a dance floor for the students to enjoy.

Nominations For AMS President Open Until Jan. 28

For Nominations For the Alma Mater Society's President and Vice-President, which are due on Tuesday, January 26, unless notice to the contrary is given.

All students are eligible to vote, and the election will be held on Wednesday, February 3. All students must be enrolled in the University of British Columbia to be eligible to vote. The candidates will be announced in the newspaper in advance of the election.

The elections will be held on Tuesday, January 26. This event will consist of a parade through the streets of Vancouver, followed by a reception in the Double Committee Room. The parade will be led by the University of British Columbia's C.O.T. orchestra, with the band playing popular tunes. The reception will feature food and drinks, as well as a dance floor for the students to enjoy.

Nominations For AMS President Open Until Jan. 28

For Nominations For the Alma Mater Society's President and Vice-President, which are due on Tuesday, January 26, unless notice to the contrary is given.

All students are eligible to vote, and the election will be held on Wednesday, February 3. All students must be enrolled in the University of British Columbia to be eligible to vote. The candidates will be announced in the newspaper in advance of the election.

The elections will be held on Tuesday, January 26. This event will consist of a parade through the streets of Vancouver, followed by a reception in the Double Committee Room. The parade will be led by the University of British Columbia's C.O.T. orchestra, with the band playing popular tunes. The reception will feature food and drinks, as well as a dance floor for the students to enjoy.
From The Editor's Pen

True Education

The editor and staff of the UBYSSEY regret that the student body will be put to a great deal of inconvenience to obtain this issue of the newspaper. Every effort is being made to get the issue to the student body as soon as possible. Students should not be so afraid of it that they will not read the issue. We feel that it provides food for thought for the student body.

The special issue of THE UBYSSEY will be distributed at the function. We would like to thank downtown personnel for assisting us in delivering the special issue.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

Hugh Briscoe announced today that corsages in these days cost possibly 30 cents. I am of the opinion that the students should be made to realize the true cost of such adornments. We are told that they are of little value, but when one considers the time and money spent on them, it is evident that the true cost is far higher than 30 cents.

We feel that the students should be made to realize the true cost of such adornments. We are told that they are of little value, but when one considers the time and money spent on them, it is evident that the true cost is far higher than 30 cents.

EDUCATION NOTE:

The following is an extract from a speech by Wendell Willard, who was the speaker at the New York University convocation. He delivered the speech at Duke University this week. It is a great pity that we should feel that it provides food for thought for the many people who are interested in the liberal arts careers in the war years. The extract is reprinted from the Washington Daily.

"I think it can be stated as an almost incontestable truth that the great civilizations of history have been the best educated civilizations. I am sure that education in this sense I do not have in mind what one would call an academic education, special training to do particular jobs. None of these specialties constitutes true education."

I am speaking of education for its own sake: to know the sheer joy of being, to stand, to speculate, to analyze, to compare, to point out what is wrong with the world we live in. In the making of a contribution to his fellowmen, this kind of education is the one that is the end of us as a civilized nation. In fact, as important are the liberal arts for our future leaders as they are for the masses who shall make up the great body of the people.

We feel that the students should understand the importance of the liberal arts in their lives. It is important that the students understand that education in them should be as much a part of a civilized nation as every other thing. Not only been banned at previous Red Cross Balls, but also at all the functions of the Red Cross. In any case, the coffers of the Red Cross will be dumped in the laps of the students. If we must spend the money, we will be doing it for the University and for the students. We feel that it provides food for thought for the student body.

"This is a war for freedom—freedom here and freedom everywhere. But we are not in a war for freedom, we are in a war for the preservation of freedom. It is true that a man cannot be free unless he has a job and a decent income. But this job and this income are not the sources of our freedom. They only help us to preserve freedom."

"Freedom is the aim of education. In that literacy of years, around which this campus has been the center. When you work hard and get through the centuries, when you weigh upon yourselves some great thinkers, and still you then seek the meaning of some great compostion, in all of that, in your poetry or your picture, you live those things within yourself and measure yourself against them—only then do you become an initiate in the world of the Red Cross."

"The study and practice of sound economics is indispensable to a successful armament in the war. And yet even sound economists cannot deive the aim of the peace. Yet that aim we must go deeper. We must estabilish better than we did during the war.

"And we shall find this equality; not in the different talents which we possessively the different races. The opportunities which we all have, and yet, in the great creativity of men, the unique frame which is bound neither by race, nor by color, nor by creed."

"What shall we have in the peace? You will go to your homes after the war. Of 'course we shall not have the war. The only thing we ever had was the last war. And we shall start this war with the same weapons we started the last war."

"We shall find this equality; not in the different talents which we possessively the different races. The opportunities which we all have, and yet, in the great creativity of men, the unique frame which is bound neither by race, nor by color, nor by creed."

"What shall we have in the peace? You will go to your homes after the war. Of 'course we shall not have the war. The only thing we ever had was the last war. And we shall start this war with the same weapons we started the last war."

"We shall find this equality; not in the different talents which we possessively the different races. The opportunities which we all have, and yet, in the great creativity of men, the unique frame which is bound neither by race, nor by color, nor by creed."

"What shall we have in the peace? You will go to your homes after the war. Of 'course we shall not have the war. The only thing we ever had was the last war. And we shall start this war with the same weapons we started the last war."
Try-outs Next Week For Thespian's Spring Production

Coward's Play Rests On Actors' Ability

• Try-outs for parts in "Hay Fever," Noel Coward's fast moving comedy, will be held next week, according to Players' Club members. It will be the first tryout performed about March 20.

The play was chosen after recent deliberations on the part of the club's directors. It was regarded as the most difficult to produce.

In the play, Noel Coward writes, "To begin with, it has no plot at all, and consequently little action. Its principal effectiveness is the character and impersonation of each player. There are no business cards, no mannerisms, no exaggerated actions, and absolutely no technical tricks. It all rests on the raw and unrefined material. Anything the players can do, however, with their voices and faces, is what the part of the play will be." The play is not expected to appeal to the average theatergoer, but is aimed at those with a taste for the unusual and unique.

Dal Richards To Play Here As Pass Feature

• RICHARDS' RHYTHMS from the Panorama Roof will be available to several potential orchestra leaders for a brief hour, Friday, March 23, at 12:00.

A strange show is to be presented at this hour. Dal Richards and his orchestra will present a set of their own. They have made a number of original arrangements and have made a number of arrangements. The audience will be treated to a set of their own, including such favorites as "Take Me Out to the Ball Game," "Remember the Maine," and "The Star-Spangled Banner." The show will be a musical success and is sure to be a hit with the audience.

COTC Work Lauded At Conference

• COLONEL T. L. RAWLINS, the Minister of Defence, expressed deep appreciation for the work done by the COTC during the past year. He congratulated the officers and men for their efforts in training and in the performance of their duties.

COTC officers have been awarded a number of awards for their services during the past year. The awards include the bronze star, silver star, and gold star. The COTC is proud of its officers and men, and is pleased with their efforts.

Harmon Chases At Gym Wed.

• AMISTAD AN atmos chere of Oriental mysticism members of WUB will be greeted at the Gym on the annual Kukki jukebox at next Wednesday night, Jan. 31. This original date was set for January 25, but difficulty in securing the gym postponed the gathering.

A luncheon to be given at the Amistad of Chicago will be held at the Gym on the annual Kukki jukebox. The luncheon will be attended by members of the organization and their guests. The luncheon will be a social event, and will be followed by a dance.

Acid Burns Student

• TOMMY NEWMARK, sophomore, was seriously injured in an accident in a chemistry lab last week.

The mishap, which occurred last Friday afternoon at 5:30, happened when a flask of hot nitric acid split over the back of New m ark's left hand and burnt it.

J. G. Hoesly, who was assist ing the lab, drew Newm ark to the General Hospital for emergency treatment. He is now at home, and has recovered from the burn, but it is not yet known how badly his arm and hands were injured, as it takes several days before the effects of the acid can be ascertained.

Grad Pics Deadline Postponed

• BECAUSE of the recent transportation difficulties, the final day of taking graduates' pictures has been postponed to next Mon day, March 23.

After this date, graduating stu dents will not be able to get their pictures taken unless they make an appointment. Any student graduating in April who wishes to have their pictures taken in April should make an appoint ment with the photographer.

Recent return has overrun by just 24 hours. The students will not be able to get their pictures taken in April. Students graduating in April should make an appoint ment with the photographer.

Now's the time to pull up your socks and take a look at yourself.

What if you have become deeply attached to your old tweed suit? You may not be wearing it the whole time, but you may be wearing it every day.

Take Stock of Yourself FELLOW!

Now's the time to pull up your socks and take a look at yourself.

What if you have become deeply attached to your old tweed suit? You may not be wearing it the whole time, but you may be wearing it every day.

Take Stock of Yourself FELLOW!

Now's the time to pull up your socks and take a look at yourself.

What if you have become deeply attached to your old tweed suit? You may not be wearing it the whole time, but you may be wearing it every day.

Take Stock of Yourself FELLOW!

Now's the time to pull up your socks and take a look at yourself.

What if you have become deeply attached to your old tweed suit? You may not be wearing it the whole time, but you may be wearing it every day.

Take Stock of Yourself FELLOW!
PHOTO QUIZ CONTEST

After the Ball

No matter what the weather, your eye will take you home—or anywhere when you have arranged with your friend to have a blanket or a chair at a corner. That's because your friends are waiting for you. And you'll have the most luxurious seat of all, with plenty of elbow room yourself at the front or rear of the vehicle.

If you think about the people waiting on corners farther away, you might be in their shoes tomorrow.

THE UBSEY

Friday, January 22, 1943

Sorority Bowling Started

THE SORORITY T-TUPS Bowling League got away in fine style last Monday afternoon at the De Lars Bowling Center, with the eight chapters well represented. Alpha Gamma Delta captured a clean sweep over Gamma Phi Beta. Delta Gamma made it two to one overall over Alpha Phi, and Kappa Kappa Gamma made it three out of three over Alpha Delta Phi.

BOWLING LEAGUE

KIMBROUGH TOPS

Topper Individual honors both times went to Alpha Gamma Delta. R. Megow led the Alpha Gamma Delta team with 403, Pat Cunningham of Kappa Kappa Gamma, with 424, and G. P. with 404. Others to reach the high scores were Barbara Hibbert of Delta Gamma, and Pat Cunningham of Kappa Kappa Gamma with 424. This league will function at the De Lars every Monday afternoon at 3:30 p.m. for the balance of the term.

under the jurisdiction of the American Association of Professional Basketball League and is run by Judge Landis or is it Judge Wil- liam L. Bruham.

Pong Ping

Don't know

• Intra-Mural Basketball

• Due to transportation con- ditions, the indoor tennis tour- nament was postponed last Wednesday night. Places were generally disappointed but under the condi- tions it was impossible to start the games. A tentative date has been set for next Friday at noon and the winner will be announced soon after. A prize of one case of cola will be given to the winner, with the prize being split in case of equal- ake scores.

So you guys think you know our chums, tackle. Eh? Now you know.

You know that Qusenie has mumps, or has he?