Fonds Description

The Corporation fonds. - 1994-2004.

2.03 m of textual material.

904 video cassette tapes.

10 audio cassette tapes.

12 photographs.

Administrative History

The Corporation, a film released in 2004, is a ground breaking movie documentary about the identity, economic, sociological, and environmental impact of the dominant and controversial institution of corporations. Based on the book The Corporation: The Pathological Pursuit of Profit and Power by Joel Bakan, the film portrays corporations as a legal person and how this status has contributed to their rise in dominance, power, and unprecedented wealth in Western society. The Corporation exposes the exploitation of corporations on democracy, the planet, the health of individuals which is carried out through case studies, anecdotes, and interviews. The documentary includes 40 interviews of CEOs, critics, whistle blowers, corporate spies, economists, and historians to further illuminate the "true" character of corporations. The Corporation was the conception of co-creator, Vancouver based, Mark Achbar; and co-creator, associate producer, and writer Joel Bakan. The film, coordinated by Achbar and Jennifer Abbott and edited by Abbott has currently received 26 international awards, and was awarded the winner of the 2004 Sundance Audience Award and Best Documentary at the 2005 Genie Awards.

Scope and Content

The fonds consists of research material (1997-2002); correspondence (1994 to 2003); pre-production (1997-2001); production from 1997-2003; post-production (2000-2002); audio/video tapes (1997-2004); and photographs (2000-2001). The series have been separated into film related terminology to retain the integrity of the filming process.

Notes

File list available.

The fonds were donated to the University Archives by Mark Achbar on August 2005.

Photographs are catalogued as part of the University Archives photograph holdings under UBC 115.1/1 to UBC 115.1/12. A selection of video tapes are catalogued as part of the University Archives media holdings under VT UBC 1174 to VT UBC 1478.

Series Descriptions

Research series. - 1997-2002.

1.04 m of textual material.

Series consists of background research on corporations and focuses particularly on various corporate institutions, as well as ethical issues that has arisen from the dominance and practice of corporations. This series includes numerous magazine articles, newspaper clippings, and corporate ephemera.

Correspondence series. - 1994-2003.

9 cm of textual material.

Series consists of incoming and outgoing correspondence to and from Mark Achbar as well as other communication related to the individuals from the production team.

Pre-Production series. - 1997-2001.

21 cm of textual material.

Series consists of the process of script editing, location scouting, casting and other arrangements made before filming started.

Production series. - 1997-2003.

38 cm of textual material.

Series consists of the final production schedule, archived location shots, contracts and license agreements and transcriptions of video taped interviews. This series contains one subseries: Transcriptions.

Transcription subseries. - 2000-2002.

33 cm of textual material.

Subseries consists of transcriptions taken from video taped interviews of corporate insiders, critics, whistle blowers, and other individuals such as Noam Chomsky, Naomi Klein, Michael Moore, and Milton Friedman. The transcriptions also include the time code that corresponds to the location on the audio video cassettes. These taped interviews can be accessed through VT UBC 1174 to VT UBC 1478.

Post-Production series. - 2002-2004.

9 cm of textual material.

Series consists of tape indexes used by the production team to document footage, press material of the films release and awards, samples of promotional materials, and information relating to the making of The Corporation DVD.

The editing process can be accessed and viewed separately.

Audio visual series. - 1997-2004.

904 video cassette tapes.

10 audio cassette tapes.

Series consists of various tape formats including: VHS, Betacam SP, Betacam BP, in addition to MDV, H8, DVP, MDC, and Audio cassette tapes. The video tapes are assigned numeric and alphanumeric codes according to the format type and according to its original order in the editing process. For example 6000 series are DVCAM-DVC tapes, whereas the 7000 series are audio cassette tapes. It is not uncommon that VHS tapes were originally given two numbers codes (by the creator). The alphanumeric codes are the initial tracking codes. This is followed by numerical codes, as seen in the 5000, 7000 and 9000 series.

The VHS tapes include time codes.

Only the Betacam are catalogued as part of the University Archives media holdings, since these are considered the original; whereas, the VHS and other formats are copies. The tapes contain footage of interviews, conferences, such as the Quebec Summit, as well as, the editing process. The Betacam video tapes are accessible under VT UBC 1174 to VT UBC 1478.

The majority of media was retained and the same footage has been kept in a variety of formats, such as: BetacamSP, BetacamBP, and VHS. Footage that was not retained consisted of televised material; published works; shots that contained images of landscapes, building exteriors and interiors; audio/video tapes which were damaged, contained no image, and/or no audio, duplicate footage, PAL format, and images which were severely blurred.

Photographs series. - 2000-2001.

12 colour photographs.

Series consists of photographs of Mark Achbar and other individuals from the production team on location, as well as Mark Achbar interviewing Noam Chomsky, Milton Friedman, Ira Jackson and Robert Monks. They are catalogued as part of the University Archives photograph holdings under UBC 115.1/1 to UBC 115.1/12.
