Biographical Sketch

Dr. Mary J. Morehart was born in 1924 in Beverly Hills, California. She pursued a degree in visual arts, earning a major from UC Berkeley. She was awarded the Fulbright Scholarship to study for a year in Paris and also spent a summer session studying in Brussels. Returning to the United States for a master's degree, Morehart majored in art history, earning an M.A. from UC Berkeley in 1950 and a PhD from the same institution in 1960. She worked briefly as a reference librarian in Ohio before accepting an offer to teach at UBC, beginning as a lecturer in 1962. She became an Assistant Professor in 1964 and an Associate Professor in 1969. She was Director of Graduate Studies in the Fine Arts Department from 1970-1972, and also worked as Acting Head of the Department in several instances. Morehart's areas of interest included: Early Medieval art, Anglo-Saxon Art, Indian and Indonesian Art, and Gandharan Art. In addition, Morehart wrote on the study of sceattas, or ancient Anglo-Saxon coins, which was the topic of her PhD dissertation and other research throughout her career. Morehart published several articles on art history matters in journals such as Pacific Affairs and the British Numismatic Journal. She retired as Associate Professor Emerita in 1989 in the Department of Fine Arts, now the Department of Art History, Visual Art and Theory. After retirement, Mary Morehart continued with her art, becoming a member of the Vancouver Art Guild which showcases the work of local Vancouver artists. She died on 14 July 2012.
