Biographical Sketch

Frank Gnupe, head coach of football at the University of British Columbia, was born in Alliquippa, Pennsylvania in 1917. He attended Manhattan College in New York from which he graduated in 1941 with a B.Sc. in physical education. He played football while at Manhattan, and in 1939 got an all-American honourable mention. At the time he also played professionally under an assumed name. From 1941 to 1945, he served in the armed forces as a coach. Although drafted by the Buffalo Bills in 1945, Gnupe joined the Hamilton Wildcats of the old Ontario Rugby Football Union as a playing coach. When the Wildcats merged with the Hamilton Tigers in 1950, he then joined the Toronto Argonauts. In 1955, Gnupe came to the University of British Columbia where from 1955 to 1973, he coached the Thunderbirds. After 1973, Gnupe remained at UBC in semi-retirement, teaching physical education and coaching baseball and golf. Gnupe's character, appearance and philosophy made him an institution on campus. Gravelly-voiced and cigar smoking, he chaperoned a whole generation of young men. His coaching record at UBC was 55 wins, 102 losses and five ties. He was well known for his generosity, acting as a father confessor, counsellor, and job finder for his students. The Annual Frank Gnupe Pigskin Award Banquet was for many years the highlight of the athletic season at UBC. On this occasion, Gnupe handed out awards inspired by some of the worst plays of the team. The gifts were manufactured by him, at his home workshop from discarded items. Frank T. Gnupe died in Vancouver on September 27, 1976.
