2 cm of textual materials.

Administrative History

The Women's Undergraduate Society (W.U.S.) was formed at the birth of U.B.C. to consider and advance the interests of the women students through the promotion of extra-curricular activities and speakers. All women students were automatically members of the society. The executive's major role was to co-ordinate the activities of the women's undergraduate societies in the various faculties. The W.U.S. annually organized social activities, especially for the female freshmen ("freshettes") during the first few weeks of classes. In 1958 the W.U.S. regrouped under the new name of Associated Women Students.

Scope and Content

Fonds consists of one folder containing minutes of meetings, reports, budgets, and correspondence documenting the activities of the Women's Undergraduate Society during the 1932/33 school year.
